The government must strictly enforce the Anti-Bully Law after the global education survey Program for International Student Assessment, which ranked the Philippines the lowest in Reading and second to the lowest in Science and Math among 79 countries, also showed that Filipino students are the most exposed to bullying, Sen. Sherwin Gatchalian said.

DepEd to launch Bullying Prevention campaign

The Department of Education (DepEd), spearheaded by the Child Protection Unit (CPU), will launch the Bullying Prevention Advocacy Campaign during the observance of the 30th National Children's Month (NCM) this November.

With the theme #KasamaKa: BaLiK-Aral (Boses, Lakas ng Kabataan at Komunidad sa Balik-Aral), the said campaign will focus on three core aspects: KasamaAko (Adbokasiya Para sa Sarili), KasamaKayo (Adbokasiya para sa Kapwa), and KasamaTayo (Adbokasiya Tungo sa Pagbabago).

"This program aims to recognize schools that deliver positive results for the learners' well-being. Schools will be assessed based on criteria aligned with the Child Protection Policy Implementation Checklist, principles and objectives of a child-friendly school, focusing on child's rights, health, protection, and learners' participation," the issuance stated.

Magaang bayarang cash assistance sa OFWs

Bacoor City Rep. Lani Mercado-Revilla

Upang walang maging alalahanin ang aalis o babalik na overseas Filipino workers (OFWs) na may maiwang utang, ipinanukala ni Cavite Second District (Bacoor City) Rep. Lani Mercado Revilla ang pagtatayo ng isang credit assistance program (CAP) na popondohan ng Overseas Workers Welfare Administration (OWWA).

Sa House Bill 3378 ni Revilla --dating alkalde ng siyudad --, mga OFWs na may balidong kontrata ang mabibigyan ng pautang na hindi lalampas sa P50,000 na maipambabayad sa mga ginastos sa paglalakad sa mga dokumento at iba pang rekisitos para rehistradong makapagtrabaho sa ibang bansa.

Pag-IBIG on Wheels goes to Cavite

NOVELETA, Cavite: Hundreds of residents affected by Tropical Storm "Paeng" availed of their chance to apply for a calamity loan through the Lingkod Pag-IBIG on Wheels on Wednesday, November 9, at the parking lot of Primark Mall in Barangay Magdiwang here.

PAG-IBIG ON WHEELS Noveleta Mayor Dino Chua visited the site where the mobile Pag-IBIG on Wheels is located at the parking area of Primark Mall in Barangay Magdiwang to check on his constituents who wanted to avail of the calamity loan on Wednesday, Nov. 9, 2022. PHOTO BY DENNIS ABRINA

Mayor Dino Chua was on hand to assist the applicants. Others availed of loyalty cards, membership registration and general inquiry services.

According to Chua, the Pag-IBIG on Wheels will stay in Noveleta until today, November 10.

"We have requested that the Pag-IBIG Fund be brought closer to our area so that residents will not have to go far to take care of their loans as I know that most of us were hit by the flooding caused by Typhoon Paeng," the mayor said.

One of the worst-hit by Paeng in Cavite was the town of Noveleta.

US must quit its overbearing role in Africa

It was Kwame Nkrumah, Ghana's first Prime Minister, who famously declared during the founding of the Organisation of Africa Union (OAU) in Addis Ababa on 24th May 1963 that Africa, which was gradually emerging from the furnace of colonialism, must unite if she must confront and wade off the yoke of neo-colonialism. In his words, the great pan-Africanism proponent thundered to his audience that the continent "must unite now or perish". He reminded the countries that gathered from different blocs of the continent that "independence is only the prelude to a new and more involved struggle for the right to conduct our own economic and social affairs". Other speakers like Julius Nyerere at that August event passionately shared the sentiments and the need for a united continent.

These founding fathers might not be prophets, but they had a foresight of the struggles that this newborn independent child as it were, would face growing interference from the West who has seen her enormous and blessed natural resources. More than 60 years since they made those onerous calls, the reality of what they feared is evident in the continent. More than 60 years later, the continent is struggling to free itself from the high-handedness of the overarching influence of so-called super powers and developed democracies like the United States of America (USA).

Africa has so many leeches deliberately working to hamper its growth and to manifest its true essence, and the overt and covert activities and overbearing influence of the USA through its criminal and murderous world police known as the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has held the continent bound. The US through the CIA has instigated unnecessary and avoidable conflicts and political instabilities that have resulted in various violations of human rights, unwanted loss of lives and hampered the continent's development. It does this by working with and recruiting agents of ossifications who are mostly Africans, of course with a bait of some kind of remuneration and reward.

The CIA has been found culpable in so many political instabilities, including Somalia, Cameroon, Kenya, Libya, Mauritania, Gambia, Guinea, Mali, Burkina Faso, with its direct involvement in the Angolan civil war, and its clandestine activities in Gabon and Madagascar and many other nations on the continent. During the cold war, the CIA served as a potent weapon of the US to topple Afrocentric and purposeful leaders like Nkrumah, the assassination plans against and eventual murder of the late Patrice Lumumba.

The height of all these interferences by the CIA is that a country like the US that prides itself as the watchdog for human rights abuses and keeper of peace across the world has never taken any responsibility for its criminality and excesses on the continent. It has instead made frantic and concerted efforts towards shielding its sordid and heinous crimes. Each year, the US spends billions of her citizens' monies collected from heavy taxes to champion cold unrest across the world and the African continent.

As an African, I am displeased and worried by the height and depth of pains the US has brought to my continent. I am worried by the sight of hunger in troubled Ethiopia, the nakedness in Libya, the destitution on the streets of the Central African Republic (CAR), the fear and disruption caused by constant military takeovers in Mali, the homelessness and growing number of displaced persons in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) caused by the USA.

My continent is abundantly blessed with mind-blowing natural and human resources that if it is allowed to prosper without the constant meddling by a so-called troubling "Big Brother" like the US, Africa would and should become the envy and pride of the world. The US cannot continue to sponsor wickedness and instigate terrorism on the continent while it continues to dump peanuts to her as a form of aid.

No, it can't. Africa, by her endowments, does not need any forms of aid from the US; it only needs peace and space to realise its full potential for itself and for the good of her citizenry scattered all over the world as seekers of greener pastures. In June 2020, a wave of civil disobedience and protest was seen across God's Own Country following the brutal and gruesome murder of Gorge Floyd by the now jailed Californian policeman. Before his unfortunate death, Floyd was captured from CCTV footage and other visuals shouting he could not breathe due to the way he was pinned down on the neck by the killer cop. He was heard in his words saying "I can't breathe. I can't breathe." Although there were other conspiracy theories as to the kind of person Floyd was, one thing that could not be denied is that he died from complications arising from his pinning down. Like Floyd, Africa and Africans have been shouting and crying for more than 60 years of its independence: it can't breathe. And the foremost cop holding him down is the USA through its notorious CIA.

The US must let go off its knees from the African continent so it could breathe. The US cannot continue to sponsor unrest on the continent through its proxies. It must desist from its war of calumny against the cradle of humanity. We didn't beg to be blessed with resources, but our makers did. Therefore, our blessings should not be the reason why the US with its investment in advanced intelligence and super military hardware would continue to destabilize her. Africans deserve a peaceful life, with strong and viable institutions. Africa deserves to compete favourably on the global stage without being schemed against by an overbearing partner like the US.

Pag-IBIG Calamity Loan ready for members affected by Typhoon Paeng

Top executives of Pag-IBIG Fund announced on Friday, 4 November, that the agency has allocated P5 billion in calamity loan funds to help members affected by Typhoon Paeng.

"We are ready to help our members affected by Typhoon Paeng with our Calamity Loan program. We have initially identified a total of 344,000 affected members in Regions IV-A (CALABARZON), V (Bicol Region), VI (Western Visayas), the Bangsamoro Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao (BARMM) and other areas where a state of a calamity has been declared by the local government unit, who are eligible to borrow under the program. That is why we have set aside P5 billion in calamity loan funds to help them recover from the damages caused by the typhoon.

This is in line with the directive of President Ferdinand Marcos, Jr. to provide Filipinos in affected areas with immediate relief and all the necessary assistance," said Secretary Jose Rizalino L. Acuzar of the Department of Human Settlements and Urban Development and Chairperson of the 11-member Pag-IBIG Fund Board of Trustees.

Under the Pag-IBIG Calamity Loan, eligible members may borrow up to 80% of their total Pag-IBIG Savings, which consist of their monthly contributions, the counterpart employer's contributions, and accumulated dividends earned. And in consideration of the plight of the members, the loan is offered at a rate of 5.95% per annum which is the lowest rate in the market. The loan is payable over a period of up to three years, with a grace period of three months so that initial payment is due only on the fourth month after the loan is released. Qualified borrowers may apply for the calamity loan within 90 days from the date when an area has been declared under a state of calamity.

Pag-IBIG Fund Chief Executive Officer Marilene C. Acosta, meanwhile, stated that the agency has already released P2.03 billion in calamity loans to help 149,773 members in calamity-hit areas as of September this year. She also added that Pag-IBIG branches are now in coordination with local government units who have declared a state of calamity in their respective areas for the deployment of the agency's mobile branch, the Lingkod Pag-IBIG On-Wheels, to receive applications for calamity loans from members as well as insurance claims from current Pag-IBIG Housing Loan borrowers whose properties have been damaged due to the typhoon.

"When calamities strike, we at Pag-IBIG understand that our members in affected areas need immediate financial assistance. For this reason, we make sure that all our services and benefits remain accessible to our members.

Even while our offices and personnel in calamity-hit areas have also been affected by the typhoon, our branches remain open and are ready to receive loan applications and housing loan insurance claims. We have also deployed our Lingkod Pag-IBIG on Wheels to initially go around typhoon-stricken areas in Cavite, Aklan, Capiz, Cotabato and Maguindanao to further bring our services closer to our members who are most in need. And, for members who have internet access, the Virtual Pag-IBIG is ready to accept their calamity loan applications online. During these trying times, our members can count on Lingkod Pag-IBIG," said Acosta. (Pag-IBIG)

Furthermore, the anti-bullying advocacy will also make sure the functionality of the child protection committees (CPC); encourage schools to develop their localized child protection policies; and inspire the members of the CPC and the teachers to know the Child Protection Policy and their role as guardians and partners towards its development.

The CPU initiated-program likewise aims to raise teachers' morale and motivation, mobilize community support for education, and promote learner empowerment and youth participation in advocating for their rights and protection.

In addition, DepEd will officially kick off the observance of National Children's Month on November 9, featuring discussions on Understanding Learners' Self-Concept: Me, Myself and I; Bullying Prevention and Safeguarding of Learners and Children; Safe Spaces in the School Setting in the Context of Learners; and Child Participation and Youth Concerns in Child Protection. Moreover, to conclude the month-long event, a Culminating Program will be held on November 25 to be hosted by the Child Protection Unit, in partnership with the Public Affairs Service.

This year's celebration of NCM shall focus on "Kalusugan, Kaisipan, at Kapakanan ng Bawat Bata Ating Tutukan!" covering four categories of children's rights: survival rights in the 1st week, development rights in the 2nd week, participation rights in the 3rd week, and protection rights in the final week.

Pursuant to Republic Act No. 10661, the country has been commemorating National Children's Month in November every year since the adoption of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) on November 20, 1989.

Natural farming in the PH still has ways to go, but it's getting there

November is Organic Agriculture Month. Republic Act (RA) No. 10068, also known as the Organic Agriculture Act of 2010, was signed by the President Benigno Aquino, Jr. on May 21, 2015.

According to the Official Gazette of the Philippine government, Organic Agriculture month was created "to promote, propagate, develop, and further implement the practice of organic agriculture in the Philippines."

Seven years on, not only has organic agriculture remained a niche industry, the use of the term "organic" itself has been clouded. Nowadays, in this country at least, the official term for farms that practice organic farming but do not have third-party certification is "natural" farm, with "organic" reserved for farms or products that have the proper paperwork.

And since third-party organic certification can be very costly, this is hardly a good strategy for small farmers who can barely make ends meet, if at all. It's a huge roadblock to its use as a "tool for development." That said, organic certification is still important if one wants to compete globally, as it is an important requirement in many countries.

Thankfully, this hasn't stopped many farmers from practicing natural farming, nor has it hindered those interested from seeking a less expensive, more democratic way of obtaining organic certification.

The Participatory Guarantee System (PGS) is an internationally recognized quality assurance system that relies on farmers and stakeholders to make sure that the farm seeking organic certification adheres to a previously decided set of qualifying criteria. It is recognized by the International Federation of Organic Agriculture Movements (IFOAM), who also helps in PGS training and also complies PGS initiatives worldwide.

Seven years on, there are still many misconceptions about organic agriculture – that it is expensive, that it is easy, even that it is the solution to all problems. Much work has to be done to show (not tell) people that naturally grown crops can be for everyone, not just the wealthy, but this also requires a food system that will make it accessible to everyone regardless of income.

There is a huge push to encourage people to farm, and much of it hinges on promoting it as a social media-friendly lifestyle.

In reality, farming is usually difficult, and while we must encourage more people to find careers in agriculture, we must also build the infrastructure that will encourage them to stay beyond the social media posts. Natural farming is even harder than conventional farming, but as its practitioners will tell you, the results are worth it.

Natural farming is a solution to our food crisis, but it is not THE solution, which will probably be a mix of different practices hinging on an effective and transparent food and agricultural system, much of it requiring proper laws and regulations and implementations thereof. If the government wants to encourage farming, they should make it easy and profitable for farmers to stay farmers.

We have a long way to go in terms of giving natural farming the recognition it deserves, but as more consumers begin to ask questions about where their food comes from, more farmers will be encouraged to follow this mode of agriculture.

Happy Organic Agriculture Month!

PARA SA BATANG PIHIKAN KUMAIN

Napakalaking papel ang ginagampanan ng magulang na gabayan ang pag-uugali sa pagkain ng kanilang anak.

Una sa lahat, alamin ang dahilan. Wala ba talagang gana o sadyang mapili lang sa pagkain. Tiyaga at pasensya ang kailangan upang mapaunawa sa kanila ang kahalagahan ng wastong pagkain. Hindi mapupunan ng pagbibigay ng bitamina ang kakulangan sa tamang pag-papakain sa bata.

Narito ang mga tips:

1. Maging mabuting halimbawa sa bata.

Ang bata ay naiimpluwensyahan ng mga bagay na kanilang nakikita. Kung gusto mong kumain ang bata ng ampalaya, dapat ay ipakitang kumakain ka din nito.

Maari ding makaenganyo ang mga nakatatandang kapatid o pinsan kung nakikitang magana silang kumain.

2. Isama ang bata sa pagpapalano at paghahanda ng pagkain.

Maaring mas matagal ang pagluluto pero mas nagiging interesado ang bata na tikman kung ano ang kanilang nagawa. Isama din sa grocery kung saan maari siyang makapamilya ng prutas at gulay na gusto niya.

3. Gawing kaaya-aya ang hapag kainan.

Alisin ang telebisyon, laruan o ano mang mga gadgets sa oras ng pagkain. Ang salu-salo ay hindi din oras upang pagalitan o sermonan ang bata na maaring makapagdulot ng maling signal sa bata kung saan nagiging negatibo ang pananaw sa pagkain.

4. Magluto ng iba't ibang putahe upang hindi madaling magsawa.

Iwasan din na tanging ang paborito nitong pagkain lang ang ihahanda dahil yun lang din ang aasahan ng bata lagi sa mesa. Sa halip maglagay din ng mga bagong sangkap at unti-unting ipakilala ito sa bata. Maaring umabot sa 10-15 beses bago ito magustuhan ng bata.

5. Maging malikhain sa paghahanda ng pagkain gaya ng iba't ibang hugis at kulay.

Bukod sa natututo ang bata, nawiwili din itong kumain. Ang panlasa nila ay sensitibo sa kulay, hugis, anyo, at pagkapino ng pagkain.

DOKTOR NG MASA

ni Dr. Willie Ong

6. Magtakda ng regular na oras ng pagkain at miryenda.

Iwasan ang meryenda kung malapit na ang oras ng hapunan dahil mawawalan na sila ng gana. Kahit ayaw kumain ng bata panatilihin pa din siyang kasama sa mesa tuwing oras ng pagkain. Masasanay ito kapag hinayan manood o maglaro na lamang at hindi mapapaintindi ang kahalagahan ng pagkain.

7. Ilayo ang mga pagkain o inumin na ayaw nating ibigay sa bata, tulad ng soft drinks.

Mas mainam na wala ito sa bahay kaysa nakikita nila ngunit sila ay pagbabawalan.

8. Huwag gawing premyo ang pagkain gaya ng pagbibigay ng tsokolate matapos maubos ang gulay. Sa halip na mapaunawa ang kahalagaan ng gulay mas natatakam tuloy sila sa premyong tsokolate.

9. Iwasang puwersahin ang bata, baka lalo nitong katakutan ang pagkain. Imbes na pilitin, unawain ang bata. Kausapin ng mahinahon at alamin ang dahilan ng kanilang pag-ayaw.

10. Huwag mag-alinlangan magtanong sa doctor kung kinakailangan. Happy eating!

hulugan ang pagbabayad sa utang sa loob ng isa o dalawang taon, ayon sa panukala ng kongresista ng Bacoor City.a

Sinabi ni Rep. Revilla, ng kongresista na madalas ay nababaon sa utang ang paalis o babalik na OFWs sa trabaho nila sa ibang bansa dahil sa malaking halagang inutang at mataas na porsiyentong sinisingil ng mga recruitment at placement agencies.

"Nabibiktima pa ang iba nating kababayan ng mga illegal recruiter at naloloko pa sila ng mga pekeng work visa ng mapagsamantalang recruitment agency," sabi ni Rep. Lani Mercado-Revilla.

Sa email na tinanggap ng pahayagang ito, nagpahayag ang maraming OFWs ng malaking pasasalamat sa panukalang batas ni Rep.

Lani Mercado-Revilla.

"Sana ay suportahan ng lahat ng congressman, mga senador ang House Bill 3378 ni Mayora Lani. Ay, congresswoman na pala namin siya. Mababawasan ang isipin namin kung mapapautang ang mga tulad naming OFWs at ang mga bagong aalis na OFWs, lalo na kaming mga taga-Bacoor," sabi ni Ms. Joyce V. Chua ng Barangay Zapote 2.

"It's a good House Bill ... I hope this bill will pass in Congress and in the bicam conference in the Senate. Kabutihan ito ng ating bayaning OFWs," sabi ni Mr. Rolando Reyes ng Aniban 2.

At the MTSC launch, MIRDC executive director Robert Dizon said the facility will also help strengthen the industrial cooperation between the Philippines and the Republic of Korea.

"Korean partners who supplied all the equipment are here to demonstrate and encourage more local companies to avail of MTSC's services. Not only did they provide the equipment, but our Korean partners made sure to boost the skills and technical know-how of our MTSC engineers and staff," Dizon said.

Seven engineers and technicians from the MIRDC and the Philippine Die and Mold Association (PDMA) trained on technical drawing, mold design, programming and operations, and mold assembly in South Korea from September to December 2019.

According to the MIRDC, the MTSC will be instrumental in beefing up the local economy. In Cavite alone, the MTSC will be able to provide its services to over 200 companies.

Companies in the molding industry are those which manufacture household products such as bottles, gadget casings, food containers, and toilet seats, among others.

The facility is located on a Philippine Economic Zone Authority-owned land near the Cavite Economic Zone.

Aside from providing training on mold making, the MTSC will accept mold-making jobs. Those interested may reach out to the MIRDC or the PDMA, especially if they are members of this association.

Dizon earlier said trainees may learn the basics like technical drawing, wherein they would only need a computer and software.

The training may last for two months because of the various modules that participants would need to take up. (PNA)

Did You Know?

IT SNOWS IN THE SAHARA DESERT

Deserts are known to have very low precipitation. And if rainfall is rare, wouldn't snowfall be even rarer? Well, the impossible happened in 2018 and the Sahara Desert was covered in a blanket of white snow. However, the snow only lasted for a day before melting under the hot sun.

The first recorded snowfall was in 1979 — a snowstorm that lasted half an hour. Although temperatures drop to freezing in the night, the lack of moisture makes it almost impossible to produce any snow. But who knows, you might be lucky enough to see it on your next trip to the Sahara!

Governor Remulla visits the locals of General Trias City

Governor Juanito Victor Remulla reconnected with his constituents in the City of General Trias through the Ugnayan sa Barangay program at Tropical Village, Brgy. San Francisco on November 8, 2022. Thousands of Gentriseños gathered and participated in the activity.

In attendance during the program were board members from the 6th District, Hon. Kerby Salazar and Hon. Morit Sison, Congressman Ony Ferrer, alongside City of General Trias officials led by Mayor Luis "Jon-Jon" Ferrer and Vice Mayor Jonas Labuguen and the Sangguniang Bayan members who gladly welcomed the Ugnayan sa Barangay team.

The city councilors took the opportunity to express their heartfelt gratitude for the trust placed in them by their constituents, and in turn, committed to be of service to the people. They also showed deep appreciation to the provincial government, under the leadership of Governor Jonvic Remulla, for their unwavering support to their people.

Consequently, Governor Jonvic Remulla informed the locals about the achievements, devel-

On a lighter note during the program, the Governor's attention was caught by a banner which read "#WalangPasok on November 8, Babaha ng Ayuda, Babaha ng Premyo, Darating si Gov!" at which he jokingly remarked that he was always remembered because of the hashtag. (PICAD)
